Hardin County Program

Children in the Middle

Program Information: Changes in family structure through dissolution of marriage, custody modifications, and remarriage are difficult experiences for your child. This is an approved course to satisfy the mandatory parent counseling required as of Jan. 1, 1997 pursuant section 598.19A of the Code of Iowa.

“Children in the Middle” is a four hour class providing education and affirmation for parents, with the primary focus on children’s needs, at all ages. Required by Iowa law, the program is conducted by qualified instructors.

This class is open to the public and is suitable for grandparents and step-parents.

Topics include: *Parenting skills for divorcing parents *Child’s needs/survival techniques
*Health vs. problematic reactions of most children *Identifying how your child feels
