

CEP (Concurrent Enrollment Program)
Dual Credit courses offered at AGWSR

AGB330 Farm Business Management

3 credits

Business and economic principles applied to decision making and problem solving in the management of a farm business, cash flow, partial, enterprise, and whole farm budgeting. Information systems for farm accounting, analysis, and control. Obtaining and managing land, capital, and labor resources. Alternatives for farm business organization and risk management.

AGS113 Survey of the Animal Industry

3 credits

Processes and principles involved in animal production and management (an introduction to livestock enterprises and related industries).

ENG105 Composition I

3 credits

Written communication using various rhetorical methods. For students whose standardized test scores indicate insufficient preparation, prerequisites are ENG060, ENG061 and/or instructor approval.

ENG106 Composition II

3 credits

A study of written communication emphasizing argumentation, persuasion, investigation, and the research paper.

LIT120 American Novel

3 credits

Examine key movements in American fiction (Romanticism, Realism, and Naturalism) and study important authors from each to achieve historic and aesthetic balance.

LIT133 Minority Voices in US Literature

3 credits

A survey of literature of African-Americans, Hispanic-Americans, Native Americans and Asian-Americans. Special attention is also given to women authors.

MUS100 Music Appreciation

3 credits

For students with no formal background in music. Includes historical information with an emphasis on developing the skills and tools of critical and appreciative listening. Covers specific musical periods, composers, styles, instruments and social influences.

Information about CEP Courses
-an agreement between AGWSR and ECC

Registering for ECC credit

All students must register through the high school counseling office. The High School Student Application/Registration form must be submitted to the MCC Admission's Office.

Earning credit

A student enrolled in dual credit earns both AGWSR and ECC credit. AGWSR Community School District pays for the college credit(s). Take each class seriously, remembering that the grade(s) will be permanently recorded on an official college transcript that follows throughout all college endeavors.

Dropping a class

For a student to drop a college credit class, two drop forms must be completed: one for AGWSR and one for ECC. The AGWSR counselor has the ECC drop slip, which requires the signature of the instructor and the high school counselor. The AGWSR Counseling Office collects and mails the drop slips to ECC. The last day to drop 2017-2018 courses, through the College, is November 17 (Fall semester) and April 13 (Spring semester).

Failing a class

The failure of a pupil to complete or otherwise receive credit for an enrolled course requires the pupil to follow the individual procedures of his/her school.

Transferring the credit to another college

A student must request the transfer of credit by submitting a transcript request form to the ECC Registrar's Office. The form is available at the Registrar's Office or online at <https://ecc.iavalley.edu/resources-for-students/registrars-office/>. The College charges a minimal $5 processing fee to send a transcript. The student must pay this fee; AGWSR Community School District does not pay this fee. The transcript may be sent immediately or select 'send at the end of the term' to ensure all grades are posted on the transcript. As you submit college applications, you need to indicate that you have transfer credits.