Residential Philosophy

ECC's Residence Life program complements the stated mission of the Iowa Valley Community College District. To facilitate a varied residence life experience, ECC houses students in apartment-style residential complexes with intentional programmatic efforts to encourage residents to experience life with others who are from different backgrounds, interests, and communities.

Thus, the goals of Residence Life and Housing focus on the individual and their relationship to the community in which they live. To this end, the residence life staff will strive to achieve the following goals:

- To maintain an environment that places high priority in the pursuit of academic responsibilities.
- To assist students in developing a positive regard for their living areas.
- To encourage self-reliance among residents while recognizing the interdependence of all.
- To promote acceptance and mutual respect among all residents by developing an awareness of one's individual responsibilities and rights and the rights and responsibilities of others.
- To promote an environment in which students are encouraged to consider and understand their personal values, beliefs, and appreciations.
- To provide opportunities through which one is able to develop and practice mature interpersonal relations and social skills.
- To provide opportunities for one to develop and apply leadership skills.
- To acquaint one with the numerous campus and community resources to support a holistic residential experience.

The Director plays a pivotal role and works closely with students to initiate, plan, develop and facilitate events and activities to enhance the quality of student life and college experience for students. In addition, the Director promotes a purposeful, educational and diverse climate that enhances the classroom learning with relevant co-curricular programs and services.

The Assistant Directors of Housing coordinates the Resident Assistant program and hall activities. They also handle discipline problems and maintenance reporting. They live in ECC student housing and are available to residents for information, advice, and personal guidance.

Resident Assistants

The Resident Assistants (RAs) are chosen through application and interview. RAs help with the supervision of the floor, report maintenance needs, and assist in policy enforcement. Most importantly, the RAs serve as friends, mentors, and information sources for the residents on their floors.

Security Personnel

The Security personnel works with the student housing staff in enforcing housing regulations and maintaining security in the student housing buildings and the surrounding areas. Residents may be required to show their room key and/or ID to the Security personnel to indicate that they are residents.

On-Call Hall Staff

In every residential location, staff are immediately available for students via an overnight duty rotation. Students are encouraged to start with the Resident Assistant (RA) on call. When a situation is beyond the limitations of student staff, a professional staff member is available to provide additional support. If you are unable to reach the professional staff in your assigned hall, please call 641-373-4657. Your first call for assistance after business hours should always be the RA on Duty.

ROOM & BOARD CONTRACT

Length of Contract

The Residence Life Contract, signed by every residential student, is a legally-binding contract for room and board services. The duration is two complete semesters, August 26, 2022, to May 12, 2023. Housing is closed during the December holiday break unless prior arrangements are made. Any variations on the length of the contract must have approval from the Director of Residence Life & Student Engagement.

Room Deposit

A $200 deposit must be paid before a room assignment will be made. This deposit serves not only to secure a room, but also as a damage deposit. The College reserves the right to refund the deposit and refuse a room assignment to any applicant. In case of cancellations, requests for refunds will be honored if made in writing and received on or before 30 day prior to the first day of classes, July 29, 2022.

Check-In

Each resident must check-in and complete all the necessary paperwork in addition to paying their $200 housing deposit before they will be given their key(s) to their assigned living space. Residents are responsible for maintaining their assigned living area in a clean and orderly manner; are expected to leave their assigned living area clean and maintained at the end of the semester and academic year. Any items left in the residential assigned living areas will be disposed of and the cost of disposal will be assessed to the resident.

Check-Out

It is expected that each resident will leave their assigned living space in a clean and orderly manner. Residents are expected to leave their assigned living space in the same manner they checked into in. Failure to meet this standard will result in charges which vary based on their documented check-out form but aren't limited to:

1. Disposal of personal property.
 - a. ECC will hold personal property for 14 days. ECC Residence Life staff will attempt to make contact with the student via email, phone, and text. 2. Cost of material(s)
3. Time and labor
4. Students will be notified of the charged amount after final room inspections

Room Damages

Each resident is expected to maintain their room(s) in good condition. To document the original condition of the room(s), students will have the opportunity to review and sign a room condition form at the time they move into their assigned room. Please review the room condition sheet carefully because when you vacate the room, this form will be used as the basis of comparison for damages. Residents will be charged for all damages that were incurred during their stay in an assigned room(s). At checkout, residents are responsible for formally checking out at the Assistant Director of Housing's office and turning in the room key. Students are also responsible for ensuring the proper use of these facilities by their guests. During all breaks, residents are expected to follow appropriate sign-out procedures.

Common Ground Damages

"Common Grounds" are those areas not assigned to individual students, including the lounges, recreation rooms, bathrooms, laundry rooms, hallways, outsides of doors, and those areas open to everyone in the building. Since this is your home, students are expected to report damage to common areas; damages in these areas are costly to everyone. We expect individuals to accept responsibility for damages which they caused, and persons on the floor to assist in identifying the person(s) responsible for damage to common grounds. When students do not identify the responsible party, the damage charges are assessed to all members of the community.

Anyone moving out of a residence building must check out with the Director of Residence Life & Student Engagement and/or authorized representatives (review/sign out on the Room Condition form) and leave their key(s) or forfeit the deposit. All rooms must be left in the condition they were found. Rooms must be swept or vacuumed and all trash removed before a resident may check out. Personal belongings left behind in student housing will be retained for 30 days; after that time, the staff will dispose of the belongings. SECURITY

Each student living in student housing has a primary responsibility for their own safety and security. ECC ensures reasonable steps which contribute to maintaining a safe and secure environment. Staff, equipment, and information resources are provided to encourage behaviors that prevent dangerous situations, and to assist if an emergency should occur. However, despite these reasonable and good faith efforts, it is impossible to predict individual actions or guarantee absolute control that will assure that no unwarranted acts or situations will ever occur. ECC cannot prevent a fire caused by a resident's carelessness with a prohibited item, such as a candle. Nor can the police prevent a theft when a resident has left the room door, deck door, or window unlocked and valuables are left out while the residents are away from the room. Remember, when one resident is careless, all residents may be exposed to the consequences of that carelessness.

Exterior doors, deck doors, windows, interior doors, and apartment/suite bedroom doors should be locked at all times when the rooms are vacant to prevent theft and to maintain the safety of other students. The College assumes no financial responsibility for lost or stolen property. Please notify the Iowa Falls Police Department and Residence Life staff immediately if you become aware of a theft or of intrusions by unauthorized persons.

Exterior doors to the buildings must not be propped open.

Security Personnel

The Security personnel are here to help everyone. These officials are employed by ECC. Residents must cooperate with Security at all times, including being able to present student identification card; failure to do so may result in disciplinary sanctions.

Building Security

Residents may enter and leave the buildings at their own discretion. Surveillance cameras are used for safety/security reasons in all the student housing buildings.

Thompson/Wall Hall

- Anyone caught propping the outside exit doors or using the side doors except in cases of emergency will be fined $100. Visitors in violation of this rule will lose visitation privileges.
- All main exit doors are locked and alarmed.

College Apartments & Suites

- All doors are locked daily.
- Anyone willfully forcefully opening a locked door and/or exit will be assessed a $100 fine.
- At no time are locked entrances to be propped open. Doing so will result in a $50 fine plus possible disciplinary action.

- Will not admit any person(s) by way of locked exit doors.
- Will respect the ownership rights of other residents.

Room keys must not be duplicated; duplication will result in a $100 fine and probation. These charges do not include time and labor. The actual cost will include the fine plus the cost of time and labor.

MISSING STUDENT NOTIFICATION POLICY

Ellsworth Community College takes student safety very seriously. As a result, the following procedure has been developed to assist in locating a student(s) living in College-owned, on-campus housing who, based on the facts and circumstances known to the College, is determined to be missing. This policy is in compliance with the Higher Education Act, Section 485(j).

Most missing person reports in the college environment result from a student changing their routine without informing a roommate(s) and/or friends of the change. Anyone who believes a student to be missing should report their concern to the Director of Residence Life & Student Engagement and/or authorized representatives. Every report made to the Director of Residence Life & Student Engagement and/or authorized representatives will be followed up with an immediate investigation once a student has been missing for 24 hours. Depending on the circumstances, parents of a missing student may be notified. In the event that parental notification is necessary, the Dean of Student Affairs or ECC Provost will place the call.

At the beginning of each academic year, residential students will be asked to provide, on a voluntary basis, emergency contact information in the event he/she is reported missing while enrolled at the College. This emergency contact information will be kept in the Director of Residence Life & Student Engagement and/or authorized representatives office.

General Procedure

1. The Director of Residence Life & Student Engagement and/or their designee will notify the Dean of Student Affairs immediately if any Residence Life student has not been seen on campus, cannot be reached by acquaintances, and a concern has been expressed for the student's safety and well-being for a period of more than 24 hours.
2. The Dean of Student Affairs will contact the Iowa Falls Police Department no later than 24 hours after the time the student is determined missing to file a missing person report.
3. The Dean of Student Affairs or ECC Provost will also contact the student's emergency contact within 24 hours of the student being reported missing.

RESIDENT LIFE

Roommate Rights & Responsibilities

As a resident of ECC student housing, students have the following rights and responsibilities. Likewise, each individual student should work to be the type of roommate who helps to ensure these rights for others.

- The right to read and study in a living unit free from disturbances.
- The right to sleep without undue disturbance.
- The right to be treated with respect and civility at all times.
- The right to expect a sense of privacy in one's living unit.
- The right to a safe and secure place of residence.
- The right to be free from fear of intimidation, physical harm and/or emotional distress.
- The right to a clean living unit and the responsibility to share equally in the work to keep the living unit clean.
- The responsibility to respect a roommate's rights and personal belongings.
- The responsibility to host guests in a manner that does not interfere with the rights of a roommate(s) and other residents.
- The right and responsibility to speak out when you believe your rights have been violated.
- The right and responsibility to seek the assistance of others to resolve conflict when individual action has not been successful.

These rights and responsibilities apply not only to roommates, but also to other students living in ECC student housing.

The College holds no liability if the above rights are not met. These rights are only a suggestion by the College to aid students in creating the best possible living environment.

Guests

With permission of the resident's roommate(s), residents are welcome to have guests; however, each residential student assumes responsibility for their guest's behavior and actions during the visit. There is a limit of two visitors per resident at any given time. A student will be held accountable and may be subject to the student housing Disciplinary Procedures if a guest is found to be in violation of policy.

The student must register a guest(s) at the Assistant Director of Residence Life's office on the day of the guest's arrival.

Guests are to be informed that ECC and IVCCD are not responsible for any lost, stolen, or damaged personal belongings. ECC and IVCCD assume no responsibility for physical harm encountered by guests. Mandatory quiet hours are 11 pm to 8 am daily. Noise Control Discipline Procedure

Residents responsible for excessive noise or disruptive behavior may be subject to disciplinary action including fines and/or eviction from ECC student housing.

Quiet Halls

A Quiet Hall area is available to students in each residence building, as space is available. As the name implies, this area is intended to provide for a quieter living environment within this designated hall setting.

Residents of the Quiet Hall are expected to adhere to a higher standard of quiet, thereby helping to maintain the integrity of this area. Specifically, this requires following 24-hour/day quiet hours, which means maintaining stereos, televisions, and other activities at a quiet level that is not easily heard outside of each room. (Important Note: Due to the busy nature of college student housing, it is impossible to have total silence.)

Quiet Hall residents who fail to follow the expectations for this area will be reassigned to another area in the building.

MENINGITIS INFORMATION

What is Meningococcal Disease?

Meningococcal disease is a rare but potentially fatal bacterial infection. The disease is expressed as either meningococcal meningitis (an inflammation of membranes surrounding the brain and spinal cord) or meningococemia (the presence of bacteria in the blood).

What Causes Meningococcal Disease?

Meningococcal disease is caused by the bacterium Neisseria Meningitides, a leading cause of meningitis and septicemia (or blood poisoning) in the U.S. Meningitis is one of the most common manifestations of the disease, although it has been known to cause septic arthritis, pneumonia, brain inflammation and other syndromes.

How is Meningococcal Disease Spread?

Meningococcal disease is transmitted through the air via droplets of respiratory secretions and direct contact with an infected person. Direct contact, for these purposes, is defined as oral contact with shared items such as cigarettes or drinking glasses, or through intimate contact such as kissing.

What are the Symptoms?

The early symptoms usually associated with meningococcal disease include fever, severe headache, stiff neck, rash, nausea, vomiting and lethargy, and may resemble the flu. Because the disease progresses rapidly, often in as little as 12 hours, students are urged to seek medical care immediately if they experience two or more of these symptoms concurrently.

Who is at Risk?

Evidence found students residing on campus in dormitories appear to be at higher risk for meningococcal disease than college students overall. Further research released by the U.S. Center for Disease Control (CDC) shows freshmen living in dormitories have a six times higher risk of meningococcal disease than college students overall.

Why Should College Students Consider Vaccination with the Meningococcal Vaccine?

Data from the CDC demonstrate increasing incidence of outbreaks on college campuses. Data further suggests that sub-populations of college students are at increased risk for meningococcal disease. Pre-exposure vaccination enhances immunity to four strains of meningococcus that causes 65 to 70 percent of invasive disease and therefore reduces a student's risk for disease. Development of immunity post-vaccination requires 7-10 days.

Who Should be Vaccinated Pre-Exposure?

- Entering college students, particularly those living in dormitories or residence halls, who elect to decrease their risk for meningococcal disease.
- Undergraduate students 25 years of age or younger who are not pregnant and who request vaccination in order to decrease their risk for disease.
- Students with medical conditions that compromise immunity (e.g., HIV, absent spleen, antibody deficiency, etc.).
- Students traveling to areas of the world with endemic meningococcal disease.

For additional information contact the U.S. Center for Disease Control at 800-232-2522 or online.

It is the policy of Iowa Valley Community College District to not discriminate on the basis of actual or potential parental, family or marital status; age; color; creed; gender identity; national origin; physical or mental disability; race; religion; sex; sexual orientation; or veteran status in its programs, activities or employment practices.
